Federal Student Aid Academic Calendar

The academic year is defined as 32 weeks of instructional time. The academic semester is defined as 16 weeks of instructional time. Courses are 8 weeks long, and students are allowed to take 2 courses concurrently, for a total of 4 in one semester. All 4 courses, however, must fit within the 16-week semester. All courses taken must fit within the start and end dates of the academic semester specific to each student.

Once you have selected your academic start date, your academic year and semesters are locked. Registrations will be limited to your selected academic year and semesters. The maximum break in enrollment between academic years that will not result in a withdrawal is 30 days.

For Financial Aid purposes the payment period is one semester, and awards will be based off of an academic year (two semesters).

Refer to the Enrollment Status section to understand the minimum course credits needed to receive Federal Student Aid
